Let's go in right now. Let's take a quick look at what AllianceBlock is and its history so far before getting into the AllianceBlock price forecast and answering questions like whether or not ALBT is a solid investment and why it will succeed or fail and why its price will climb or fall.

What is AllianceBlock (ALBT)?

AllianceBlock (ALBT) is building the first fully functional decentralized financial market in the world. AllianceBlock's goal is to create a more democratic and multi-party participatory industrial space by utilizing the concepts of censorship resistance, transparency, and openness.

Decentralization is at the heart of AllianceBlock's mission to create a level playing field in which issuers, investors, and others can participate on the basis of their merit rather than the size of their portfolios or their political clout.

AllianceBlock thinks a decentralized approach will signal the beginning of the end for monopolistic centralized corporations and institutions that control access to and authenticate transactions. Decentralization and member-initiated and -coordinated collaboration go hand in hand. AllianceBlock encourages democratic practices that value cooperation and fairness.

AllianceBlock gives its users the freedom to issue and trade digital tokens in addition to conventional investments and securities. By establishing a non-trusted system, it empowers participants of the blockchain to build their own assets and apps without external review. When it comes to governance and decision-making, the AllianceBlock stands out because of its innovative capacity to combine human expertise with technological precision. AllianceBlock pioneers the use of AI and ML to classify, rate, authenticate, and curate issuer offers, thereby tapping into the collective intellect of groups.

The ALBT coin is the platform's native token. It is the backbone of the Prometheus protocol used by Alliance. When combined with ALBT, new financial instruments can be created and used as a medium of exchange. The ALBT is a token used as compensation for those who run nodes on the network. Coins can be used to pay for the use of the network, to make purchases, as collateral, in staking, to cast votes, and to transfer voting rights.
