These Ethereum NFT projects are making great progress in the financial and economic markets.

NFT is a new subverter of financial and economic markets. They are part of the cryptocurrency market and are revolutionizing finance and art, at the same time. Cryptocurrency enthusiasts have now realized that there are a thousand ways to invest in art, music and sports with the help of NFT. When it comes to the NFT project, blockchain technology is used to create the uniqueness and ownership of digital art works, and then sell them through different platforms.

Each of these sales is recorded on the blockchain, creating a digital ecosystem that no one can change. Although Cardano, Solana and other blockchains are becoming more and more popular, Ethereum is also establishing itself as the next big man in the NFT world. In the speculation of investors about the delay of eth 2.0 upgrade, Ethereum NFT project is stealing attention from this dispute. In this article, we list the top Ethereum NFT projects you can focus on in 2022.
