What is AIOZ Network (AIOZ)?

Come to AIOZ Network and picture a future where media files including text, audio, and video are stored and streamed in a new way. With the help of Cosmos and EVM compatibility, this platform has built an architecture that will revolutionise the way we engage with digital content.

Quick content relay between the Cosmos and Ethereum ecosystems is made possible by AIOZ Network, which functions as a layer-1 blockchain protocol. Users are guaranteed fast and cheap data transfers through decentralised applications (dApps) because of this seamless compatibility.

Efficiency in the protocol is driven by features like minimum micro-transaction fees, quick finality, and one-click dApp porting. Built on top of WebAssembly (WASM) and Ethereum Virtual Machine (EVM), its multi-chain design enables infinite horizontal scalability.

However, AIOZ Network isn't finished yet. Additionally, it runs a dCDN that relies on P2P nodes for content delivery. These nodes, which are categorised as CPs, DNs, and ENs, are essential to the network's functioning and guarantee the effective and efficient distribution of content.

Looking ahead to the future of digital content engagement, AIOZ Network is well-positioned to be a leader in Web3 media thanks to its innovative strategy and strong infrastructure.

AIOZ Network (AIOZ) Price History

Our next stop will be the AIOZ Network price history, where we will have a look at the highs and lows. Knowing the coin's history might give us valuable context for making or interpreting an AIOZ Network price prediction, but we should never let past performance dictate future results.

At the height of the cryptocurrency boom in early 2021, AIOZ made its debut. On April 3 of that year, the coin hit a new high of $2.67. But after that, it fell; in July, it was below $0.20, and by November, it had recovered to be above $0.90 again. The year-end price for AIOZ was $0.4661.

Cryptocurrency in general had a terrible year in 2022, and AIOZ was no exception. The price of the coin was hit hard by the May collapse of the Terra (LUNA) blockchain and the insolvency of the FTX (FTT) exchange. It fell approximately 95% in the last 12 months, closing the year at $0.03175.

At least initially, AIOZ had a bad year in 2023. The coin got a boost from a strong market early in the year, hitting a peak of $0.05243 on February 9, but then it started to decline. United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) lawsuits against Binance and Coinbase exchanges stunned the cryptocurrency industry in the summer. The price of AIOZ hit a new low of $0.01105 on September 11. It recovered somewhat during the following three months, rising to a high of $0.1979 on November 29. At $0.1417 at year's end, it had increased by approximately 350%.

The value of AIOZ Network was around $0.1525 as of February 15, 2024.

The overall supply of AIOZ was little more than one billion at that time. With a market cap of about $163.7 million, the coin became the 284th biggest cryptocurrency according to that measure.

Another thing that shows how strong AIOZ's current upswing is is the ADX reading of 36.4391. Investors might choose AIOZ for potential long-term returns, according to these market indications.

Looking ahead to the future of digital content engagement, AIOZ Network is well-positioned to be a leader in Web3 media thanks to its innovative strategy and strong infrastructure.

With this upward momentum, AIOZ may be able to break through the $1.1519 barrier level. If AIOZ manages to break through this level, it might reach its all-time high of $2.67 by the end of the year. On the other hand, if sentiment changes, prices might fall and maybe find support at $0.42.

If AIOZ continues to go below this support, its value might fall back down to where it was on January 22—around $0.10.
