What Factors into AMC Price?

The price of AMC is affected by a number of different variables; but, unlike many other companies, it is significantly impacted by retail investors from online groups. We've selected some of the most important ones for you down below.

- Reddit. In 2021, a group of individual investors known as Wall Street Bets on Reddit began purchasing shares of AMC, and the stock quickly became known as a “meme stock.” Wild fluctuations in the market occurred after the corporation received a flood of fresh capital. The price of AMC could change if investors on Reddit do anything else.
- Positions Short. In 2021, retail investors on Reddit and other sites began purchasing AMC stock to create a short squeeze. Due to their efforts, the company's stock price increased by more than 1000% in a matter of months. Because of the large amount of existing short positions on AMC, retail investors may once again be able to force a squeeze.
- Takings at the box office. Tickets to movies account for the bulk of AMC's revenue. Since 2002, ticket sales have been on the decline, and competition from streaming services like Netflix has further intensified the trend. Not selling enough tickets might mean trouble for AMC's shareholders.
