Aptos Airdrop: How to Get It?

Aptos crypto is now giving free airdrop of its tokens. This is an ultimate guide to tell you how to get the Aptos airdrop.

Aptos has begun registration for AIT-3 after a highly successful Stage 2 of its incentive testnet. This time, the focus is on stress-testing network improvements and governance changes.

Aptos, based on the groundbreaking Move coding language, is a brand-new Layer 1 blockchain with market-leading performance, scalability, and security. Aptos is testing its network performance with a number of incentive-based testnets in preparation for its deployment in Q3 2022.

Following the success of AIT-2, which concluded on July 22, the Aptos team has begun participation in Incentivized Testnet 3, the Aptos Incentivized Testnet's third iteration.

The fundamental objective of the incentive testnets is to make sure that the community is prepared to launch an Aptos mainnet that is up to production standards.

All participants, including node operators, developers, auditors, and ecosystem builders, are welcome to take part and will get rewards for their efforts in achieving this aim.

The community will participate in several tests and exercises that both validate the findings of core developer testing and get everyone ready for mainnet operation. During this exciting time, Aptos asks and welcomes all community feedback.

Aptos will have regular community forums to solicit feedback, iterate, and enhance these plans.

Now that we have learnt about Aptos layer 1 solution, let us know see how we can get this latest airdrop for absolutely free.
