Original:

Abstract:

- Fantom is now worth $1.09193240.
- By the end of 2024, the FTM price might have risen to a peak of $1.92.
- By 2030, the Fantom price might rise to a high of $6.25 due to possible demand.

Perhaps the most impactful and game-changing innovation of the 21st century is the blockchain. It is revolutionizing the entire online experience by making communication and commerce more convenient, quick, and easy. However, the blockchain is not without its difficulties. Blockchain trilemma refers to three interrelated problems with the technology.

Improving blockchain's speed, security, and decentralization all at once seems like an insurmountable trilemma. The argument states that keeping decentralization while also increasing speed and security requires making compromises. The Bitcoin network is a prime illustration of this problem because of its advanced security and decentralization yet poor transaction speed.

When this happens, the network becomes overloaded, which leads to higher transaction costs. The Fantom initiative originated from this trilemma. The purpose of the Fantom project is to establish a decentralized, secure, and infinitely scalable platform for DeFi services.

What is Fantom (FTM)?

Fantom is a high-performance, scalable, and secure smart contract platform that is compatible with

EVM. Utilizing an asynchronous Byzantine Fault Tolerant (aBFT) Proof of Stake (PoS) consensus process, the network's efficiency is maintained.

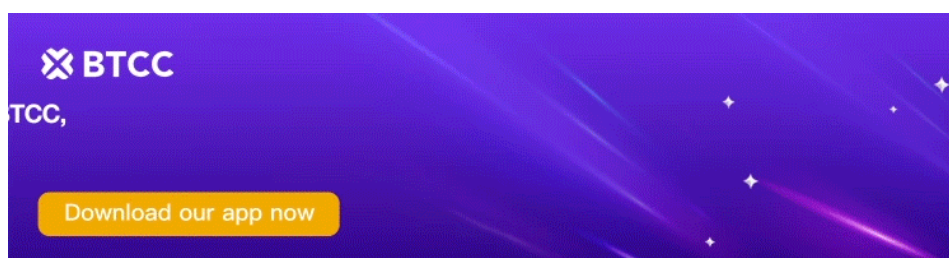

Lachesis is the name of Fantom's "leaderless" consensus method, which provides rapid transaction speeds, low transaction costs, and deterministic finality. Using Lachesis, developers can create Peer-to-Peer (P2P) apps without having to create their own networking layer.

FTM is the primary, native token of the Fantom network. It is utilized for network security via staking, governance, payments, and fees. The token has a maximum supply of 3.175,000,000,000.

Fantom (FTM) Price Prediction March 2024

After more than a week of consolidation in the $0.7090-$0.9590 price range, the bulls reclaimed the lead and the altcoins burst over the resistance level. Bearish sentiment began to permeate the market after the bulls had a 29.3 percent increase.

The bulls recorded another 21.50% valuation surge after the price was lingering near the $1 support/resistant line, and now it is about to test the $1.1170 resistance level, the result of which is unclear.

The MACD technical indicator shows a consistent downward trend in the red histogram, suggesting that the market is being pushed upwards. On top of that, there's a good chance that the averages will show a bullish convergence, which means that the price will keep going up in the days to come.

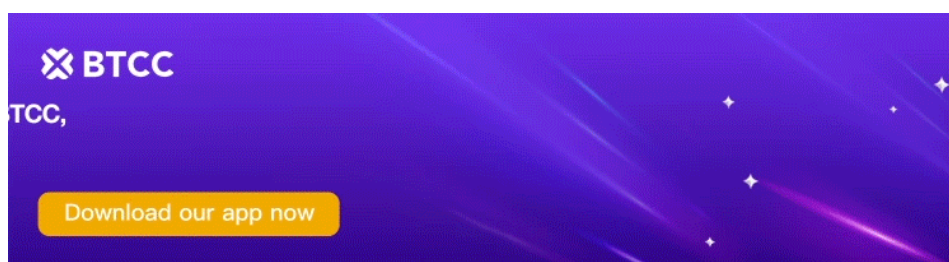

In the following weeks, bulls will be ready to attempt the upper resistance level of $1.40 if the price of Fantomcoin manages to push above $1.1170. In contrast, the price will lose steam and drop to test its lower support level of $0.7090 soon if the bulls are unable to gain control.

Fantom (FTM) Price Prediction 2024

As a result of the 335 M FTM incentive program's success, newer dapp deployment, and increased volumes. Because marketers are bullish, the digital asset's price could hit new potential highs. Higher volumes could be driven by social emotions. A rise in holdings is a positive indicator for the future of FTM's price.

Eventually, with support from holders, the price would be able to withstand severe declines. There will be a maximum increase of $1.92 in the FTM price due to the growth in bullish volumes. The other side is that it may go as low as $1.06. With that stated, $1.49 could be the typical price.

Fantom (FTM) Price Prediction 2025

Examining the asset's past actions is crucial for making long-term price predictions. Also, its actions when market bears take control. Looking at Fantomcoin's past performance, it shows that it is still somewhat susceptible to market volatility. The price might so reach $2.75 by the end of 2025, at the very least.

With the coin's future development, this lightning-fast smart contract platform might hit $2.20. More widespread use of the protocol may provide the push needed to achieve this. And fruitful partnerships and cooperative endeavors. However, if we look at the usual trajectory of its cycles, we can see that the price of Fantom crypto could end up at around $1.65.

Is FTM a Good Investment?

Recent price increases in Fantom Coin show that FTM has the potential to offer extraordinary profits for its investors. When used on Fantom, one of the most prominent decentralized application (dApp) platforms, the FTM Coin can be exchanged for a wide variety of useful services. Our price research suggests that holding onto Fantom Coin for the long haul is a viable option.

Despite the apparent upward trend in Fantom's price, FTM Coin and other cryptocurrencies are extremely volatile and can suddenly reverse course. As an investment vehicle, Fantom can be a good option for a savvy trader. Bitcoin and other cryptocurrencies are currently the most lucrative investments, but they are also among the riskiest. Risk management should be performed thoroughly before making any financial commitments.

Can FTM Hit $100?

Several cryptocurrency investors are wondering if Fantom Coin can reach $100 after its enormous 2021 pump. Our analysis indicates that by 2031-2032, the Fantom coin's price will have reached a maximum of $100. Nevertheless, there is no indication that Fantom Coin can reach $100 in the next 5 or 6 years, which is what you'd need to see if you're aiming for the $100 target in the short run. It may seem like a long shot, but in the crypto market, anything can happen.

It has been witnessed before that a massive price surge or decline can completely demolish forecasts in a matter of seconds. Our $100 Fantom coin price forecast may be too low if the FTM Coin is successful in forming partnerships with other blockchain networks and garnering community support. The value of Fantom Coin may rise if it is listed on more prestigious exchanges.
