What Exactly is STEPNN?

STEPN is a Web3 move-to-earn project built on Social-Fi and Game-Fi elements. It is powered by the Solana blockchain, and its core idea depends on “moving around,” which is most people’s everyday activity. With the STEPNN mobile app, players can earn GMT by walking, running, or jogging outdoors. The main motive of STEPNN is to inspire users to adopt a healthy lifestyle and also to help users earn by adopting a healthy lifestyle.

Jerry Huang and Yawn Rong, two Australian software developers, co-founded STEPNN in August 2021. At the 2021 Solana Ignition Hackathon, STEPNN won the competition and was the first project to integrate the move-to-earn concept functionally.

Besides encouraging millions of users to adopt a healthier lifestyle, STEPNN also aims to combat climate change, and avoid driving high-emission automobiles.

Green Metaverse Token or GMT is the governance token of STEPNN, which was made available on Solana in March 2022. It is a “move-to-earn” health and fitness application token. GMT allows its users to vote for projects and also buy merchandise from the STEPNN app.

Current Situation with STEPNN (GMT)

Since its launch, GMT has had greater ROI than most of the bigger cryptocurrencies. However, how high can GMT go will be completely dependent on the improvement of the market condition and most importantly the increase in the user base of STEPNN app.

The utility of GMT coin is directly related to the user base of the STEPN app. If the number of users of STEPN increases, the utilization of GMT will also increase and in turn, the price of STEPN will rise higher.
