Original:

<https://www.btcc.com/en-US/academy/research-analysis/sei-token-airdrop-how-to-participate-in-the-sei-airdrop>

Many blockchain platforms, such as Ethereum, BNB Chain, Solana, and Polygon, are eligible to receive the $SEI token airdrop.

Key Takeaways:

- Active users of Ethereum, BNB Chain, and Solana will be eligible for a special cross-chain airdrop that the Sei Foundation is introducing today.
- Sei is a fast Layer 1 blockchain with revolutionary features like parallel processing and rapid block finality. It can also handle massive increases in digital assets.
- To participate in the airdrop, customers must create a Sei Wallet (like Compass) and bridge their tokens from their existing off-chain wallet to it.
- Users are invited to read Sei's official blog for more information about the airdrop, which will be available after the public mainnet debut on the Sei platform.

What is Sei's Unique Airdrop?

According to the Sei Foundation, they have just launched a "Airdrop like no other." Obviously, this isn't a regular airdrop.

Several ecosystems are mentioned in this article; Sei's approach is really cross-chain in that it seeks to acknowledge and reward the early adopters of blockchain technology across these systems.

What is the Sei Blockchain?

In addition to being a blockchain, Sei also has other features. It is a public, permissionless, and specialized Layer 1 blockchain. The blockchain is particularly pleased with its capacity for the frictionless transfer of digital assets.

The need for scalable blockchains is rising as the number of digital asset types, from NFTs and gaming assets to Decentralized Finance (DeFi), increases. Here's where Sei comes in; it's been purpose-built to meet the Web3 industry's high-performance and high-quality user experience standards.

Unveiling the Sei's Technical Prowess

Sei was built with lightning-fast speeds, top-notch performance, and cutting-edge technology as its top priorities. The effects of this concentration are clear:

- Unrivalled Rapidity: Sei takes great pleasure in having one of the shortest finality times in the blockchain industry.
- High Throughput: It might theoretically perform better than any Ethereum Rollup.
- Innovative Technology: Sei's speed comes from its use of parallel processing, the immediacy with which blocks can be resolved, and the special techniques by which block propagation and processing are handled.

There's more to the Sei blockchain than just efficiency. It's the first of its kind, ushering in a new era for Web3 applications by going above and beyond simply providing the requisite infrastructure that enables anyone with internet access to interact with web3 applications in the blink of an eye.

How to Participate in the Sei Airdrop?

Here's the lowdown on how to join in on this ground-breaking airdrop:

Qualifications Required:

Together with its collaborators, the Sei Foundation has identified users on other blockchains, such as:

- Solana.
- Arbitrum.
- Ethereum.
- Osmosis.
- Binance Smart Chain (BNB Chain).
- Polygon.

The majority of current blockchain activity is driven by users of these chains. As long as you are whitelisted, you can take part if you are an active user on any of these chains.

Steps:

The first thing you'll need to do is set up a Sei wallet. Compass is one such wallet, but it is expected that additional Sei Wallets that are interoperable with the mainnet will become available in the near future.

If you're a first-time user, it's important to keep your seed phrase safe by following the instructions. If you installed one of these wallets during Atlantic 2 testing, you should update it and connect it to the Pacific-1 Mainnet.

To transfer your assets, click the "Airdrop" button. How to link an existing off-chain wallet to a Sei wallet address is provided. After that, you'll be able to bridge the selected tokens through the Sei bridging user interface.

The airdrop can be claimed upon the public mainnet launch, as stated on the Sei Blog. Users can verify their eligibility and sign up at <http://app.sei.io> once it is live. Visit the Sei Blog by clicking HERE for additional information.

Blockchain fans have a once-in-a-lifetime chance to join a cutting-edge network thanks to the Sei airdrop. Sei is well positioned to revolutionize the future of Web3 applications with its cutting-edge technology and cross-chain approach. Always remember to safeguard your digital assets and seed phrases.
