Shiba Inu is one of the most popular cryptocurrencies in the world, but it doesn't impress people.

Traditionally, the stock market is unparalleled in creating wealth. But in the past few years, cryptocurrency has surpassed the stock market and become one of the most popular forms of investment. Cryptocurrency is now regarded as a valuable tool to hedge inflation. Because the market is decentralized and has no political influence, more and more investors join the market to ensure that they have a safe store of value in case of any economic or financial adversity in the world.

At present, there are thousands of cryptocurrencies for investors to choose from. However, the commemorative coin Shiba Inu has become one of the top and most controversial cryptocurrencies in the market. Although Shiba Inu is one of the largest names in the cryptocurrency market, critics are quite skeptical about its future prospects. This is mainly because it was created by a memo and is very unstable in nature.

Shiba Inu brought historic benefits in 2021, but for Shib token, its operation ended when the collapse of the cryptocurrency market knocked down the main cryptocurrency. Nevertheless, investors expect the price of Shiba Inu to soar in April 2022, but after it fails to meet these expectations, investors are now looking for other investment options.

Shiba Inu's Record Surge in 2021

A number of factors contributed to Shiba Inu's outstanding performance in 2021. Due to its listing on many cryptocurrency exchanges, Shib tokens have gained great popularity and improved liquidity. In addition, its decentralized exchange shibaswap, launched in 2021, further improved its liquidity, enabling Shib investors to take shares in their coins. So the dynamics of the cryptocurrency market are also part of the reason.

Even the toughest Shib skeptics believe that cryptocurrencies do have a chance to compete among the top cryptocurrencies on the market. But 2022 brought bad luck to Shiba Inu and its investors. The former "Dog Coin killer" is now losing its charm. Even after its developers have taken significant steps to achieve its lost popularity in the market, investors are looking for other investment options.

Shib's Value Declines in 2022

For the cryptocurrency like Shiba Inu, which soared to the moon in 2021, these conditions may seem quite unrealistic. Experts predict that if this situation continues, Shib tokens may end below its historical low by the end of 2022. This is mainly because no matter how many improvements Shib developers introduce to their network, investors will always look for more advanced facilities already provided by other cryptocurrencies.

More importantly, Shib did not even provide an appropriate payment method. Companies that accept Shiba Inu payments are not so popular and exist only online. In addition, although Shiba Inu has announced its presence and initiatives in the field of metadata, the waiting time is too long for investors. Even after Shiba Inu was listed on the Robinhood exchange, the move expected by Shib enthusiasts did not show up, causing investors and critics to doubt its future viability.

There are several other reasons why investor sentiment and market algorithms do not favor Shiba Inu. But it is certain that the cryptocurrency will soon need some important help, because if it does not, it will be disintegrated and forgotten!
