What is Shiba Inu Coin?

Shiba Inu is the original Japanese dog breed used as Dogecoin's symbol. The Shiba Inu ecosystem is based on the guiding principles described in the "woof paper," the canine version of a white paper that highlights cryptocurrency project outlines and roadmaps. SHIB is an Ethereum-based ERC-20 token, and Ethereum was chosen over other platforms because it is already robust, secure, well-established and allows for actual decentralization.

Its popularity and success are mainly due to the large cryptocurrency community of SHIB supporters, the so-called ShibArmy, and online influencers that help pump the price. The cryptocurrency official Twitter account, for instance, is followed by 2.2 million people, more than other top coins like Solana (1 million followers) or Cardano (1.1 million followers), or even Ethereum (1.9 million followers). Overall, SHIB's price gained over 27,000,000% from January to October 2021.

For a long time, the SHIB token has been regarded as a pump and dump cryptocurrency, mainly because it's been hard for users in the real world to grasp its utility. However, its website mentions that the Shiba token is "A Decentralized Meme Token that Evolved into a Vibrant Ecosystem" and got to the heart of its people because the dog breed's popularity resonated with the crypto community.
