WorldCoin Price Prediction 2024

In April of the year 2024, Bitcoin will be halved. Timed with the most recent projections, a bull market in cryptocurrencies is expected to start in 2024.

But how that will affect the price of Worldcoin is anybody's guess. There is a total quantity of 10 billion WLD, with 106 million currently circulating. Between the debut and the end of year-3 post-launch, 3.5 billion tokens will be unlocked, according to the Worldcoin whitepaper.

The amount of supply in circulation has increased by over 35 times. The majority of these tokens are distributed among the first investors and users who registered in exchange for the complimentary tokens. As soon as the tokens are unlocked, many early adopters and users will likely sell them, putting a lot of pressure on new buyers.

This begs the question: where exactly is this additional liquidity going to come from? As we've previously indicated, Worldcoin isn't going to be as appealing to investors as other decentralized cryptocurrencies, therefore speculation is the first place to look.

Utility is an additional possible liquidity source. Among Worldcoin's confirmed uses, governance is the sole one at the moment. Although this has the potential to increase demand, it raises the question of why World IDs can't just democratize governance and voting.

Additional possible uses, such a medium of exchange and a medium of value preservation, are hinted to in the whitepaper as well.

It appears that Worldcoin's $21.6 billion market cap is a bit steep considering the token's present utility. No amount of growth in the market value is expected to translate into a significant increase in the WLD price, given the vesting schedule.

Accordingly, we project that by the end of 2025, the price of Worldcoin might range from an average of $4.5 to a high of $5.2 with a low of $3.8 also being feasible.

WorldCoin Price Prediction 2025

If Worldcoin wants to be successful in the long run, people will stop seeing it as a centralized venture capital coin and start seeing it as a permissionless system that empowers regular people.

True decentralization is one of Worldcoin's long-term objectives, as discussed in the project's decentralisation blog post. To address some of Vitalik Buterin's concerns, it allows for the construction of Worldcoin infrastructure by multiple parties or entities.

The project's chances of luring speculative capital from retail investors interested in decentralization would improve if it resolved its decentralization issue.

The project's possible use cases are another consideration. A recent blog post highlighted a few of these, like Okta's Auth0 adding a "Sign in with Worldcoin" feature and Talent Protocol reaching a first in Europe for web3 projects by integrating World ID.

The ability to link an off-chain identity with an on-chain wallet using cryptographic proofs is a huge step forward for cryptocurrency and will open up a lot of new possibilities.

There are numerous other applications for Worldcoin, but its primary goal is to provide a universal basic income to all users. Among many other things, the World ID could guarantee that airdrops are distributed fairly, that DAO votes are cast fairly, that bots are protected, and that unsecured DeFi loans are made available.

While the potential applications of such technology are limitless, it is important to take Worldcoin's worries into account when making price predictions.

Concerns about centralization, privacy, security, and possible legality, along with poor tokenomics and unfavourable retail sentiment, are likely to keep its price low.

A recent lawsuit accused OpenAI of stealing personal information. Worldcoin may be at a regulatory disadvantage due to its usage of AI and handling of massive volumes of biometric data.

In light of the foregoing, we project that by the end of 2023, the price of Worldcoin might range from $4 to $6.5, with an average price of $5.25.

[TRADE_PLUGIN]BTCUSDT,ETHUSDT[/TRADE_PLUGIN]

WorldCoin Price Prediction 2030

Many people feel strongly about Worldcoin. One positive aspect is the infrastructure it offers, which has the potential to increase the widespread use of cryptocurrencies. Contrarily, several aspects of Worldcoin's founding, operations, and philosophy conflict with the fundamental principles of cryptocurrencies.

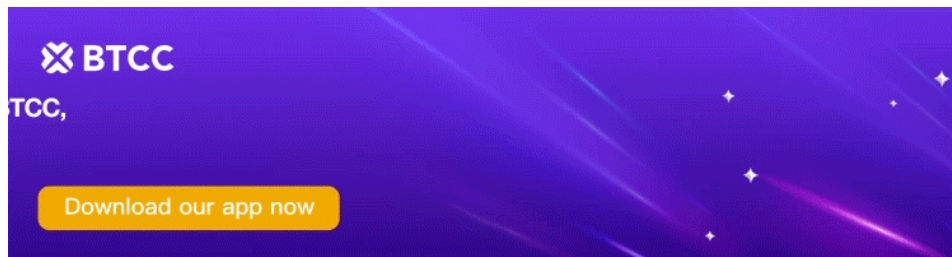

Accepting that "the journey will be challenging and the outcome is uncertain," Worldcoin nevertheless plans to align itself with these ideals.

Over eight billion WLD will be in circulation by the year 2030. Although Worldcoin has great promise as an infrastructure, it is uncertain if it will be able to surpass its enormous $22 billion FDV. This can only happen if the project incorporates more practical features, such making the protocols ords decentralised and implementing a staking and slashing system to guarantee ethical behavior.

Our Worldcoin price estimate for 2030 is $6.25 on average, with lows of $3.5 and highs of $9 based on the information we have so far. Of course, anything may happen in the long run.
